A Journal for Those Who Dare

From the Mailbox...

We welcome your comments and opinions. If something in our newsletter or material has impacted you, we'd like to hear from you. We can be contacted by fax, mail or email. Please see the last page for this information.

To brother Veith according to the faith: grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour.

Our experience of these last 2 weeks in Penticton can be compared to the experienced of the early Christians when apostle Paul came to visit them and shared personal truth with them. What a spiritual feast! Your honesty with yourself and with your Lord has led you to accept this message though at a great price. Now, we all benefit from your positive decisions and feel blessed.

Please accept our profound gratitude for your commitment to God's cause and to His people. For sacrificing and risking so much, we wish to thank you and your family. Thank you is a small word, but our gratitude to the Lord for blessing us with the knowledge of His end time message, and to you all for bringing it to us, will motivate us. We will share these messages with as many as will be willing to listen. We did email and notify a number of people, but only a few came. However, we will have the DVDs and they will be put to good use.

Dear brother, may the Lord be with you, your family, and the Amazing Discoveries team. May He guide you, protect you, and bless you all.

Sincerely, B.K. & L.K.

To the staff at AD:

Just a note of encouragement for the work you are doing. God bless you. I have some of the videos you offer, and I am blessed every time I watch them. I also use them as a way to evangelize and encourage others...
P.A. & Z.A.

Dear AD:

Thank you for your letter of March 22, 2004 updating me on the activities of Amazing Discoveries. I think that Amazing Discoveries has come of age and is poised to do a great work for the Lord in the closing days of this world's history....
K.S.

Dear AD:

I ordered several of Brian's videos... We are really enjoying the videos. They are very informative and have really opened our eyes to things we were unaware of around us. Our prayers are with you as you continue to spread the gospel.

My wife Christine and I recently left our charismatic fellowship in Dorset, England, after 16 years, including several years in the worship group.

The main reason for this was our unease at the church's membership of "Churches Together", an ecumenical organization. We are also unhappy with the proliferation of such literature as "Left Behind" etc. and the popularity of the big name tele-evangelists.

We have listened to the teaching of Steve Wohlberg, Doug Batchelor, and Walter Veith and are going through the Sabbath School quarterly study at home.

We are seriously looking at the SDA doctrine and as a result have attracted concerned interest from some of our friends including being sent letters and emails and being given a book by David W. Cloud entitled "Avoiding the snare of Seventh-day Adventism." We are certain that we have been called out as part of God's remnant and would appreciate your prayers.
J.H.

I have just finished watching a video of Walter Veith's on freemason's and I am absolutely blown away. It seems events are closer than we think. Well done for exposing what is going on.

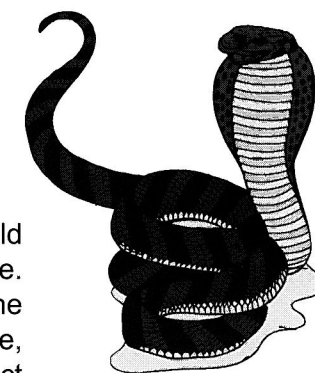

We, as a family have been listening to lots of video tapes by Walter Veith. They are wonderful! Thanks for keeping us informed and teaching us.
S.S.

Hi, I'm in youth ministry here in New Zealand and I find much has changed in the Seventh-day Adventist church over the past twenty years. As young people making decisions for Christ, we were convinced that we needed to quit dancing, jewellery, rock music, and other destructive lifestyle choices. However, today many people are baptized wearing jewellery. Rock music is played at church and conference-run events! Dancing has even been performed on the stage

The Knowledge of Evil

by Anonymous

"The Scripture which above all others had been both the foundation and the central pillar of the advent faith was the declaration: 'Unto two thousand and three hundred days; then shall the sanctuary be cleansed.' (Daniel 8:14)" GC 409 A whole new vista of truth was opened up to our early pioneers as they studied the real meaning of the sanctuary and its services. As they studied, they began to see that "Truths vast and profound are shadowed forth in its rites and symbols." COL 133 The revelation of this special truth was so overwhelming to the Lord's messenger that for many days, she couldn't even speak of it. (See UL 199)

What is the truth revealed in the sanctuary that is so awe-inspiring to thus affect those who shortly after 1844 began to see its profound significance? It wasn't a study of the sanctuary's measurements and dimensions, or the fabrics and material that went into its construction. Rather, it was a realization that "In all, God desired His people to read His purpose for the human soul." Education 36 As they began to comprehend that "Thy way, O God, is in the sanctuary" (Psalm 77:13), and that "God designed that the temple at Jerusalem should be a continual witness to the high destiny open to every soul" (DA 161), they stood amazed. The intimate connection between the temple in heaven and God's people on earth was a facet of truth that almost boggled their minds. Speaking of their experience, Ellen White wrote, "The passing of the time in 1844 was a period of great events, opening to our astonished eyes the cleansing of the sanctuary transpiring in heaven, and having decided relation to God's people upon earth..." CWE 30

The close connection between the sanctuary and God's people was intimated when God first directed Moses to build the tabernacle in the wilderness. God said, "And let them build me a sanctuary that I may dwell among them." Ex 25:8. As God's Shekinah glory dwelt in the earthly tabernacle, so it was God's purpose that by His Spirit He would dwell in the human temple. "That temple, erected for the abode of the divine Presence, was designed to be an object lesson for Israel and for the world. From eternal ages, it was God's purpose that every created being, from the bright and holy seraph to man, should be a temple for the indwelling of the Creator." DA 161. It is the same purpose set forth by the Apostle Paul, speaking by the Holy Spirit: "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?" 1 Cor 3:16.

God gave to His people the sanctuary services to also help them understand the fearful nature of sin, and the marvelous redemption that has been provided to completely undo the damage that sin has caused. The fearful consequences of sin can be seen most dramatically in the experience of Adam and Eve.

When Eve stood gazing at the tree of knowledge of good and evil, she must have wondered why God had given it such a peculiar name, and why He had so positively forbidden them to eat of it. When Adam and Eve were warned about this tree, they did not know what evil really was.

They had never seen its deleterious effect. They had been warned about Lucifer's rebellion and his designs to involve them in the experience of evil, but they really did not know what evil, sin and death actually were.

The knowledge of evil that God did not want our first parents to have was not merely a knowledge about evil. God and the holy angels all knew about evil through the defection of Lucifer. The real 'knowledge of evil' that has caused such depredations upon the human race is not merely knowing about evil, but it is an experience in evil that can come only through personal sinning. Note the following from Inspiration:

"Adam and Eve were permitted to partake of every tree in the garden save one. There was only a single prohibition. The forbidden tree was as attractive and lovely as any of the trees in the Garden. It was called the tree of knowledge, because in partaking of that tree, of which God had said, "Thou shalt not eat of it," (Gen 2:17) they would have a knowledge of sin, an experience in disobedience." KH 14

The knowledge of evil that God did not want our first parents to have was not merely a knowledge about evil.

After they sinned, they felt a sense of terror and guilt at what they had done. When they heard the voice of God in the garden calling to them, they hid themselves in the farthest recesses of the garden, rather than joyously welcoming their Creator as they had always done before. But when they sorrowfully repented for their disobedience, God graciously pardoned them. Their guilt was borne by the "Lamb that was slain from the foundation of the world". Yet they were not permitted to remain in the garden, even though they pledged never to disobey again. Why couldn't they remain in the beautiful garden that they had enjoyed so much? God condescended to explain to them the problem that sin had caused.

"Adam and Eve were informed that they must lose their Eden home. They had yielded to Satan's deception, and believed that God would lie. By their transgressions they had opened a way for Satan to gain access to them more readily, and it was not safe for them to remain in the garden of Eden, lest in their state of sin they gain access to the tree of life, and perpetuate a life of sin. They entreated to be permitted to remain, although they acknowledged that they had forfeited all right to blissful Eden. They promised that they would in the future yield implicit obedience to God. They were informed that in their fall from innocence to guilt, they had gained no strength, but great weakness. They had not preserved their integrity while they were in a state of holy, happy, innocence, and they would have far less strength to remain true and loyal in a state of conscious guilt." ST Jan 23, 1879

The reason Adam and Eve could not be allowed to remain in the garden has to do with the 'knowledge of evil' that they obtained through sinning. Sin is like a two-sided coin. On one side is the guilt and condemnation facet. The sense of guilt and condemnation that Adam and Eve felt created an estrangement from God and an aversion to His presence. This is the first aspect of sin that God has to deal with before communication with Him can be restored. When the sin is pardoned and the guilt removed, the communication between the soul and God is restored and the healing process can begin. On the other side of the coin is the 'knowledge of evil' facet, the experience in disobedience which is not removed when sin is pardoned. This aspect of sin is often ignored or not understood. It only took a moment for Adam and Eve to obtain a 'knowledge of evil', but they discovered that they would not be free of it all the days of their life. This is what God meant when He said, "Because thou has hearkened unto the voice of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree, of which I commanded thee, saying, 'Thou shalt not eat of it': cursed be the ground for thy sake; in sorrow shalt thou eat of it all the days of thy life..." Genesis 3:17. Ellen White comments on this verse, "It was not the will of God that the sinless pair should know aught of evil. He had freely given them the good, and had withheld the evil. But, contrary to His command, they had eaten of the forbidden tree, and now they would continue to eat of it - they would have the knowledge of evil - all the days of their life." PP 59. Pardon for sin, while it frees the repentant sinner from the load of guilt, does not remove the 'knowledge of evil' and its influence upon his spiritual experience.

Satan will try to take full advantage of the knowledge of evil in the mind to lead us back into sin again. He will stimulate the mind to rethinking former sins and to experience the thoughts and feelings associated with them. And if the soul is not barricaded by prayer and study of the Scriptures, he will lead us back into those sins again.

We might justly ask why the deleterious effects of the knowledge of evil are not removed when the soul repents and is pardoned. God could remove it when He grants pardon and justification to the contrite soul. But He doesn't do that for good reason. God has promised that when the work of redemption is fully accomplished, sin will never again raise its ugly head. How will this be done? Will He take away the freedom to choose? Will He program every intelligent being so that they cannot sin again? No! If he didn't program Lucifer and the heavenly angels, and if He didn't program Adam and Eve to always obey Him, why would He program the redeemed saints to remain loyal for eternity?

It is only by allowing sinners to learn by experience the fearful malignity of sin with its woe and enslavement that they will become secure from going that route again. The finger that got burnt on a hot stove is thereafter immune from touching it again. And it is only as they learn by experience the addictive nature of sin, and the great struggles needed to rise above it that God's people will become immune from its allurements. Adam and Eve became aware of this, much to their sorrow. "Adam and Even had chosen the knowledge of evil, and if they ever regained the position they had lost they must regain it under the unfavorable conditions they had brought upon themselves." Education 25

This is also the reason that the great controversy has been allowed to continue for six thousand years. It was "that sin might receive eternal condemnation". Education 308. If God would have completely removed the malignant effects of sinning as soon as it was pardoned, sinners would not realize the serious, deadly nature of sin. And if sin were regarded as a small matter, then the sacrifice and grace that has been provided to save from sin would also be regarded as of little consequence. But the lifelong effect of the knowledge of evil upon the character is clearly revealed in Inspiration. Jeremiah tells us that "the sin of Judah is written with a pen of iron, and with the point of a diamond: it is graven upon the table of the heart..." Jeremiah 17:1. And the Spirit of Prophecy is replete with passages that reveal the same truth.

"It is true that some may see their folly and repent. God may pardon them. But they have wounded their own souls, and brought upon themselves a lifelong peril." COL 55

"The greatest evil of it all (worldly pleasures) is the permanent effect that these things have upon the character. Those who take the lead in these things bring upon the cause a stain not easily effaced. They wound their own souls, and through their lifetime will carry the scars." 8T 66

"And let none flatter themselves that sins cherished for a time can easily be given up by and by. This is not so. Every sin cherished weakens the character and strengthens habit; and physical, mental, and moral depravity is the result. You may repent of the wrong you have done, and set your feet in right paths; but the mold of your mind and your familiarity with evil will make it difficult for you to distinguish between right and wrong. Through the wrong habits formed, Satan will assail you again and again." COL 281

The Bible tells us that "all have sinned and come short of the glory of God." All have gained a knowledge of evil with its depraving effects. That is why the Wise Man asks the rhetorical question, "Who can say, I have made my heart clean, I am pure from sin?" Proverbs 20:9. Yet we need not be discouraged. God has promised that "where sin abounded, grace did much more abound." Romans 5:20. And God will not allow anyone to be tempted above what they are able to bear. "But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ." 1 Cor 15:57.

We can be sure that Satan will try to take full advantage of the knowledge of evil in the mind to lead us back into sin again. He will stimulate the mind to rethinking former sins and to experience the thoughts and feelings associated with them. And if the soul is not barricaded by prayer and study of the Scriptures, he will lead us back into those sins again.

In recent years, an interesting technology has been developed called "Brain Fingerprinting". A documentary of this was aired on the TV program "60 Minutes". This technology has caught the attention of both the FBI and the CIA because of its ability to detect whether certain information relative to a crime is stored in an individual's mind. When pictures or scenes relative to a crime are flashed on a computer screen along with other irrelevant words or pictures, the brain will emit a specific brain-wave as it recognizes certain information that is flashed on the screen. The headband will pick up the brain signal. And that signal will be emitted whether the individual wants it to or not. Likewise, Satan will utilize the 'knowledge of evil' to get us to relive our past experiences in sin, and unless the soul is fortified by prayer and a reading of the Word, the mind will automatically incline toward the doing of it again. "He who has once yielded to temptation has become spiritually weak, and he will yield more readily the second time. Every repetition of the sin weakens his power of resistance, blinds his eyes, and stifles conviction." RH Jun 20, 1882 The reason for this is that "a conscience once violated is greatly weakened." 2 T 90

That is why "none of the apostles or prophets

... the great problem in this world began through the coming in of the knowledge of evil, and it will not be resolved until the knowledge of evil is removed.

ever claimed to be without sin. Men who have lived nearest to God, men who would sacrifice life itself rather than knowingly commit a wrong act, men whom God had honored with divine light and power, have confessed the sinfulness of their own nature. COL 160 they were not habitually committing sin, yet such holy men as Moses and the apostle Peter fell back into their former weaknesses when their trust in God momentarily wavered. Compare Exodus 3:11-15 with Numbers 20:7-12 & Matthew 16:69-75 with Galatians 2:11-13.

The knowledge of our experience in sin resides in the mind. And since the mind is like a personal library containing many books that make up our whole life experiences, we can appreciate the fact that as long as there is a mixture of both good and evil books, the library could not be considered a perfect, faultless library. There may be many books of high spiritual value and morals, yet if there are also any immoral or pornographic books, or things unwholesome, the library could not meet the high standard of purity demanded by God's holy law until all the unwholesome books were removed. The knowledge of evil residing in the mind is what makes it a corrupt channel that defiles even the prayers and praise and best service of the true believers of Jesus. And it is humbling to realize that unless the divine Intercessor purifies all by His blood, they could never be acceptable to God. See Rev 8:3,4, 1 Peter 2:5, 1 SM 344, AA 532, FW 23,24. Because "all have sinned and come short of the glory of God", all need the unmerited favor of God's grace to stand justified before Him.

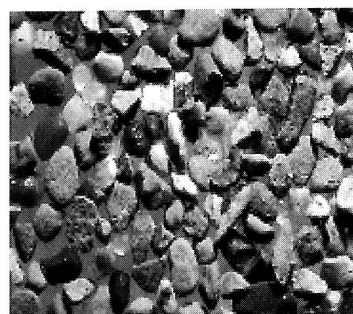

God "declares (imputes) His righteousness for the remission of sins".

Romans 3:25. This is the only way that anyone, even the best of saints, can stand accepted before God at the present time. Even though he may advance daily in sanctification, we are told that "by growing daily in the divine life, he will not attain to the full stature of a perfect man in Christ until his probation ceases." 4T 366,367

It is important to understand that the great problem in this world began through the coming in of the knowledge of evil, and it will not be resolved until the knowledge of evil is removed. Because the knowledge of evil has infected the whole human race, every great spiritual revival and reformation during the past 6000 years has been followed by backsliding and apostasy. This has been the syndrome since the knowledge of evil was introduced into this world. But when it is finally removed, God's people will be eternally secure from the tempter's devices. Not one will backslide or apostatize. See Zephaniah 3:13 & Rev 14:5,12

When will the 'knowledge of evil' be removed? This critical question demands an answer. It obviously doesn't happen when we repent and are born again, because Adam and Eve had it all the days of their life. Repentance, the new birth and a life of sanctification do not remove the 'knowledge of evil'. True, it will become weakened in its power and influence through daily sanctification so that the true believer can be victorious over his sinful nature. But it is still there, ready to spring into life should the soul let go its hold upon divine power. The alcoholic who was delivered

There will be many who will demand entrance and claim admission to the heavenly wedding feast on the ground of profession of faith and earnest activity. But hear the Saviour's words: "When once the master of the house is risen up, and hath shut the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, Lord, open unto us; and he shall answer and say unto you, I know you not whence ye are." Luke 13:25. "Not everyone that saith unto Me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of My Father which is in heaven. Many will say to Me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in Thy name? and in Thy name have cast out devils? and in Thy name done many wonderful works? And then I will profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from Me, ye that work iniquity." Matt. 7: 21-23.

They say: "Was I not a member of the Church?" "Did I not do my share in all our glorious campaigns?" "Was I not a teacher in the Sabbath school?" "Did I not sit on the front seat and fervently cry 'Amen'?" Inexpressibly sad the disappointment! And all so needless! Saying, "Lord, Lord," will not open the door; nor

Brian Neumann Spring Tour 2004

It was a hot, sticky, tropical Caribbean night when I landed in Barbados to commence my recent seminar tour in the spring of this year. The Island of Barbados was to be the first stop in a series of appointments that, from there, would take me from the East Coast of the U.S.A., right across to the West, then North - right to the border of Canada and, finally, down to Nevada and the city of Las Vegas - most appropriately called 'Sin City' - a nickname which the locals seem to very proud of. Indeed, it would seem, they flaunt it.

Barbados, thanks to the Lord, was an extremely successful 1 week stop with Radio and TV interviews (part of the promotion for the meetings that were open to Adventists and non-Adventists alike), which commenced on the very next morning after my arrival. The people turned out in impressive numbers and responded enthusiastically to the meetings. Not only did the general public respond in such a marked way, but a few of the personalities working in the local news media took up the message and started debating and publicizing it through their respective channels. Just after my arrival back in South Africa - 2 months after the meetings there - I received an e-mail from my hosts informing me that discussions on the meetings and their content were still being printed in the newspapers and were being alluded to in TV panel discussions and interviews. I have come to realize that the debate surrounding music and its relationship to us as human beings is not just a topic peculiar to controversies between conservative and liberal Christian factions but is, indeed, an issue of intense interest to the secular public as well. I praise the Lord for the effect the meetings had there.

My port of entry into the U.S.A. was Miami. There I got a personal taste of the intense post-911 security. As I went through the final control - after having my bags searched and answering numerous questions regarding the religious nature of my visit - I was about to walk out into the arrival lounge when a security official sharply called me back. 'Who was Melchisedec?' he asked. The question caught me off guard and for a moment I was at a loss for words. Thankfully, the Lord quickly brought clarity back and I answered: 'He was a character in the Old Testament.' My reply did not yet satisfy him. He pressed: 'Who paid a tenth of his income to Melchisedec?' 'Abraham,' I replied. And so, at last, I was allowed to enter the land of the free.

The seminar tour in America was mixed with blessings (many) and a fair/unfair share of controversy. The Lord was always there though, giving me the strength to continue and impressing hearts and minds with the information that was presented. My first stop, in North Carolina, opened up an unexpected avenue for communicating this message more extensively.

There were many other blessings that attended the trip such as a week long radio interview series in Las Vegas, hosted by a former GC Vice President, that received enthusiastic response, the wonderful hospitality and friendship of my many hosts and the effect that the meetings had for opening doors in the future. I thank the Lord for the opportunities and the blessings that this tour afforded. And, I thank Him, very specifically, for bringing me back home to my family, church and friends again.

Clarence Schildt is pastor of the Rockwood church in Portland, Oregon. He has pastored in Virginia, Pennsylvania, California, Idaho and now Oregon. For a few years he taught full time at Loma Linda University. His ministry has focused on relational Christianity.

TRADING PLACES

We so long to experience more of Christ's strength in place of our weakness, yet this seems so illusive. Why? In this seminar we will discover from Scripture what exchanging our lives for His looks like, as well as each of our roles in this. We will learn some very practical approaches for "trading places" so Christ has more control in our lives.

will the recital of our good works unlock the portals of the kingdom.

Heaven is a prepared place for a prepared people. There is no admission to others. And that preparation will come only to those who submit to the work and filling and constant supply of the Holy Spirit.

This is the midnight of the world. Spiritual darkness as black as the pit has settled down upon the earth. We have already reached the hour foretold by the prophet: "Behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people: but the Lord shall arise upon thee." Isa. 60:2. We are now in the slumbering time when the drowsiness of the flesh is joined to the dreadful anesthesia of sin. But it is also the time of the loud cry, centering around the preparation needful to meet the heavenly Bridegroom.

Jesus is coming soon, coming suddenly, speedily, unexpectedly. Are we prepared according to God's specification? How is your lamp today? Is it trimmed and burning bright? Ah, we zealously sing, "O brother, is your lamp trimmed and burning?" That is good, as far as it goes, but it does not go far enough. There may be a flame, and the oil be about exhausted. "O brother, is there oil in your vessel?" That is the song that the remnant church needs to sing. That is the prayer we need to offer.

How about the oil in the lamp vessel? If the line of demarcation were to be drawn today, this hour, this moment, on which side would you be found? It is the most important question in the world. May God in His infinite mercy awaken and arouse us each and all.

The counsel of the Master to us today is, "Watch ye therefore," lest through carelessness and worldly conformity we be content with the theory, glide along with the stream until it is too late, and be swept over the falls. True wisdom consists in being always ready according to heaven's program and provisions. And, praise God, there is divine provision for our human infirmity.

In Matthew 3:10-12, fire is used as a symbol of the cleansing, refining power of the Holy Spirit, and in this sense, we are thankful that fire does indeed spread; and this fact, I am persuaded, lies back of the expression, "Quench not the Spirit." The word quench presupposes the presence of fire, and carries us back to apostolic days - "There appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them." Acts 2:3

This was in fulfillment of Acts 1:8: "Ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto Me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost parts of the earth."

The power of the fire of the Holy Spirit is for service and for witness; it purifies and cleanses our lives, thus preparing us to be channels through which the Holy Spirit may flow out in service to others. There is no use in praying for the power of the Holy Spirit for ourselves, merely to consume its blessing upon our own lives. Ah, no! It is given for service. That is the ultimate purpose of the celestial fire. And when this fire of the Holy Spirit comes to us and does not find expression in service, we quench the Holy Spirit. I

Acerola Fruit -Also known as Barbados cherry, this fruit is grown in southern US & Central & South America. Fruits are round to oblate, cherry-like but with 3 lobes, about half the size of a cherry. They are bright red (rarely yellow-orange) with thin skin, easily bruised. The pulp is juicy, acid to sub-acid occasionally nearly sweet (tart), with a delicate flavor and apple notes. The fruit is very high in Vitamin C, up to 4,000 mg per 100 g fresh weight, but typically around 1,500 mg C. The highest source of vitamin C known to man - twenty-six times that of an orange.

JUICE COCKTAILS*Cough Cocktail for Children

In a mixer combine warm soy milk with:

- 1 Tbsp honey
- 4 Tbsp acerola juice (substitute something with high vitamin C content instead if you cannot find a source)
- 2 Tbsp coltsfoot juice (or strong coltsfoot tea - if fresh is not available ) (it soothes & loosens phlegm)
- 2 Tbsp fennel juice (helpful for expelling phlegm)

You may want to add some fruit to this cocktail according to the child's preferences.

CHARCOAL NOW AVAILABLE

Amazing Discoveries now carries charcoal in powder and tablet form.

Grippe Cocktail

With the sudden advent of the flu and symptoms of coughs, sniffles, and fever, you should apply the following recipe:

- 1 Tbsp echinacea juice or tea (immune system strengthener)
- 1 Tbsp sage juice or tea (perspiration reducing, disinfectant)
- 1 Tbsp thyme juice or tea (anti-spasmodic, disinfectant)
- 2 Tbsp red beet juice (strengthens the immune system)
- 4 Tbsp acerola juice or juice from half a freshly squeezed lemon
- 2 Tsp honey

Mix well with apricot nectar & rosehip tea and drink slowly in small sips.

Nature's Penicillin

Can be used effectively for: colds, flu, sore throat, infections, respiratory problems, and a general immune system strengthener.

- 1 Grapefruit
- 1 Orange
- 2 Lemons
- 3 Cloves of Garlic
- 1/2 large Onion
- 3 drops Peppermint Oil
- 1/8 Tsp Cayenne Pepper (if heavily congested)

Cut fruit and onion into pieces. Place in a blender and mix well. You may need to add a little bit of water and if you do, add just enough to get the blender to turn.

Dosage: Adults - one cup a day

Children - 1/2 cup a day.

This amount is not take all at once, but a spoonful at a time periodically throughout the day, until the total amount desired has been consumed. Pour remainder into glass jar and keep refrigerated. When ready to use, warm slightly in a saucepan before serving.

Medicinal Value of Each Time Used:

Grapefruit - high in vitamin C which is an immune system strengthener. Grapefruit is valuable as it aids the body in eliminating poisons. The rind of the grapefruit is a natural source of quinine.

Orange - high in vitamin C and A. Also contains high amounts of Potassium and a good amount of Calcium and Phosphorus. Known to decrease excess mucus from the head and nose. Useful in cases of respiratory ailments, such as bronchitis, pneumonia, and also asthma, high blood pressure and rheumatism.

Lemon - contains vitamin B, C, Calcium, Iron, Potassium, and Phosphorus. Lemons are a natural antiseptic, helpful in destroying harmful bacteria in areas of infection. Because of its vitamin C content, it again acts as an immune system builder. Especially beneficial to the liver, an important organ of elimination. Lemon is also beneficial because it is alkaline forming in body.

Garlic - contains vitamin B, C, Calcium, Potassium, Phosphorus. Garlic is one of the most beneficial foods for the digestive system and has a positive effect on the lymph, aiding in the elimination of toxic waste matter in the body. It is also a useful cleanser of the blood. It is a natural antibody and therefore very valuable in strengthening the immune system.

Onion - contains vitamin A, Thiamine, iron, niacin, and Calcium. Onions have antiseptic qualities. They help drain mucus from the sinus cavities and loosen phlegm. They will also help destroy worms and other parasites in the body. Recommended in cases of asthma, bronchitis, pneumonia, flu, and colds.

Peppermint Oil - brings oxygen into the blood stream. It cleanses and strengthens the entire body.

THE WONDERS OF CELERY

Celery is a biennial plant which also grows wild in salty soils of North & South America, Europe and Africa. It is known and valued practically all over the world. It is used as an appetizer to improve the taste of other dishes, to stimulate digestion, as well as to eliminate excessive fluids from the body.

The stalk contains 93.7% pure, unpolluted water, and is rich in calcium, sodium, potassium, phosphorus, and iron. Celeriac, the knob-like root, is a source of potassium, sodium, calcium, iron, silicon, much vitamin B and some A. Celery juice - made from the leaves and the celeriac combines the vital nutrients of celeriac with the vital elements formed by the chlorophyll of the green leaves. As a result, we find a wealth of chloride minerals combined with alkaline ash, something the body greatly needs.

Celery has a stimulating effect on digestion because it acts as a diuretic, and it general helps dissolve and discharge waste materials, mainly through the kidneys.

Celery juice helps the body rid itself of accumulated metabolic waste. This is beneficial for many symptoms and complaints, in particular rheumatism and arthritis. It is also a tonic and restorative for the nervous and glandular systems, and is also helpful for flatulence and tendencies towards overweight. Here are some ways celery can be used for common ailments:

Dieting

A few stalks before meals appeases the appetite and maintains regularity. (Cellulose in raw celery is excellent roughage).

Diabetes

Excellent because of its depurative (increasing elimination) qualities. Recommend celery juice plain or mixed with carrot or tomato juice. In Japan, rheumatism is cured completely with celery in a variety of forms for one month - no other foods.

Calcium Deposits

Dissolve with celery juice taken on a regular basis

Nerves

Celery is an excellent tonic for nerves and has a very calming effect.

NEW PRODUCT

Amazing Discoveries
now carries
V-VAX essential oil made from the purest double-distilled eucalyptus.
There are approximately 730 varieties of eucalyptus trees, and only eleven are rated "medicinal"
by US standards.
Of the eleven medicinal varieties, V-VAX is rated number one.

V-VAX is an excellent remedy for a variety of ailments:

RASHES, INSECT BITES

Spray V-Vax on the affected area. Allow to dry, repeat process.

AROMATHERAPY BATHS, SPAS, HOT TUBS and JACUZZIS

Add 1-2 teaspoons of V-Vax to the bath, jacuzzi, spa or hot tub water to enjoy a fresh invigorating aromatic experience. The fine aroma will fill the air with an invigorating scent that will relax and revitalize the senses.

SAUNAS

V-Vax can be used in either wet or dry saunas and steam rooms to provide an invigorating aromatic experience. A word of CAUTION: the oil should not be applied directly to hot coals or stones, as it is flammable. Dilute 1 part V-Vax to 100 parts water and use in a spray bottle as described. Spray onto the walls and into the air not on the hot coals.

HOME AIR FRESHENER

Add equal parts water and V-Vax to refill a used Plug-in GLADE® or WIZARD® Brand Scented Oil Air Freshener. Plug the unit into a household socket and adjust the vent to allow for vapor disbursement. Add the same mix to a candle based aroma or incense vase. (Do not apply any direct flame, as V-Vax oil is flammable.)

-Add 1-2 teaspoon to water of Vaporizer or Humidifier when in use during winter months.

-Soak used Air fresher wicks with V-Vax to re-use as air fresheners in the bathroom etc.

FOOT BATHS

Foot baths can be prepared by adding 1 teaspoon of V-Vax to the warm water of a foot bath providing excellent relief to tired aching feet.

SCALP MASSAGE and HAIR TREATMENT

A few drops of V-Vax either applied directly to the scalp or mixed with shampoo can be used to stimulate the blood flow to the hair and help revitalize dull or shedding hair.

FACE AND BODY CARE

A few drops of V-Vax can be added to your favorite skin cleansing cream, soap cleanser, facial scrub, and skin moisturizer.

CHEST OR SINUS CONGESTION

- First apply a warm/hot compress to the chest for about 10-15 minutes (changing applications as they cool).

- Then rub a generous amount of the V-VAX onto the chest and let it absorb into the tissues. Have patient breathe deeply, thus allowing eucalyptus to enter deep into the lungs and break up congestions, making it easier for the patient to cough and expel mucus and phlegm.

HEAD COLDS, FLU

- Pour 15-20 drops of V-Vax into a bowl of steaming hot water. Cover your head with a towel and inhale the vapors.

- A personal steam vaporizer inhaler can also be used with smaller amounts of V-Vax and water.

OR - Sprinkle a few drops onto a handkerchief and inhale to help clear the nasal passages. This is also good to do prior to flying. While on the plane, breathe deeply into the handkerchief once every hour. This will help prevent you from contracting harmful bacteria and viruses usually found in the ventilation systems of most airlines which cause illness and disease.

- Place a few drops on the washcloth when showering to allow the hot water to release the vapors.

- Spray by mixing 1 part V-Vax to 100 parts water in a fine mist spray bottle.

- Mix equal parts V-VAX with baby oil or petroleum Jelly and gently massage the chest, neck and back, or under nose to help relieve chest congestion.

- Add 1-2 teaspoons of V-Vax to a hot water vaporizer or cold air humidifier to help assist breathing.

- Add 1-2 teaspoons to a plastic water trough placed above circulating hot water or a forced air-heating system to allow the vapors to fill the air.

SORE THROAT GARGLE

- A Gargle with warm salt water and a drop or two of V-Vax will ease the throat.

- A few drops in a glass of water can also be used as a mouthwash and rinse. (Avoid swallowing)

- one good spray into the mouth also helps.

BACK ACHES, MUSCLE ACHES, SPRAINS

First bathe the affected body part with hot water or apply a warm cloth to open the pores. Spray V-Vax on the areas and massage well for at least one minute. Re-spray the area and massage again. Apply lotion to help seal in the V-Vax.

BURNS

Spray V-Vax immediately on area. Do not rub in. Repeat process in one hour. Apply a dry sterile dressing. Repeat application morning and evening.

COUGH SYRUP

Take juice of one or two lemons, add equal amounts of pure honey and a slice of onion, and two-three drops of V-VAX eucalyptus oil. Stir well and take one teaspoon 4 - 6 times daily as needed. It's delicious!

DERMATITIS

Simply apply to affected area and let it absorb into the skin. Not only does it relieve the pain, but it also aids in healing.

Please note: Always seek the advice of your physician or other qualified health providers with any questions you may have regarding your medical condition. Do not take internally. Please keep away from children.

IN UKRAINE EVANGELISM
IN 2005

Amazing Discoveries is planning a large evangelistic meeting in Kiev, the capital city of Ukraine in early 2005. It will be an exciting series as Walter Veith presents lectures on science and creation in a country where for over 70 years evolution was the only alternative offered to the populace. Following the evolution/creation, Walter Veith will hold lectures on Biblical prophecy in light of our present day with his unique presentations on the great controversy between Christ and Satan. These lectures will be held in conjunction with Victor Gill, who will conduct a full evangelistic seminar as follow-up in preparation for baptism.

This lecture will be sponsored solely by AD and we would like to invite you to help in this extraordinary series. Your generous donations are needed at this time. Please prayerfully consider giving to help finance the expenditures of this powerful seminar coming to the Ukraine this coming spring!

believe in service with all my soul. But I believe in a service that is set on fire from heaven, and not with common fire.

The apostles needed and received the baptism of the Holy Spirit. Surely it is desirable, needful, imperative, for us today. How can we receive it? Just as the apostles received it - by recognizing our need, by believing it is for us just as they believed it was for them; by earnestly desiring it, and continuing steadfast in prayer; by being wholly surrendered to God's will, by coming into unity, and by expecting it.

One gets the baptism with fire very much as one gets the baptism of water. To be baptized in water, a person must first desire it. He must then go to one qualified to baptize with water, and submit himself, put himself in his hands to be baptized. We must do the same to receive the baptism with fire. There is but one qualified to baptize us with fire. That person is Jesus Himself. It is His exclusive prerogative; He has never delegated it to another. He waits to baptize us with fire. Will we go to Him?

It is said that years ago, in old Dalmatia, the houses were made of bituminous limestone, which is soft, and easily cut and shaped. The whole house was made of it-walls, roof, floor, ceiling-inside and outside. But when it was finished it was uninhabitable, for it reeked with the strong odor of bitumen. The structure was completed by setting it on fire. It burned and burned, like coal, the fire sucking out the bitumen from the pores of the saturated stone, until everything combustible passed away in gas and smoke, and the fire flickered and died out from lack of fuel.

Then the house was finished, and stood, having the appearance of white marble, sweet, clean, and habitable. And if later it was in the midst of a great fire, it would not burn, for there was nothing combustible left to burn. It was fireproof.

We, too, are by nature and by indulgence saturated with the combustible, reeking bitumen of sin. In the coming fires of the last great day all such elements will be consumed in eternal destruction. The only way of escape is to be burned out now by the baptism with fire, and thus be made fireproof, as it were, against that day that shall burn as an oven. So we may become beautiful temples for the eternal indwelling of our God.

In pioneer days, when men camped out on the vast prairies, they would sometimes see a prairie fire coming over the plain, destroying everything in its resistless sweep. They knew that in an hour or so they would be engulfed in the flame. Then they would start a fire and send it to meet the approaching wave, rolling and roaring across the plain. At length the fires would meet, and leap to the heavens in one wild outburst of fury, then expire because of lack of fuel. Thus by fire they were saved from the on-coming fire.

I want just that, don't you? I want to be purified from sin, and to be cleansed from the dross that is in my life. I want to be illuminated with God's full truth, and to be a luminous Christian for Him. I want my cold heart warmed, fired, by His Holy Spirit. I want the energizing power of God in my life, so that wherever I shall go, other men will catch fire, and the heavenly flame will spread.

May the prayer of each of us be, Blessed Lord, do Thou Thy wondrous work in my yielded life. Burn out the lurking sin that lingers. Purify from all the enslavements and pollutions of self. Fill me and fit me with Thine own glowing, glorious presence, and send me forth a flame of fire to illuminate and warm the sin-chilled lives of other men and women.

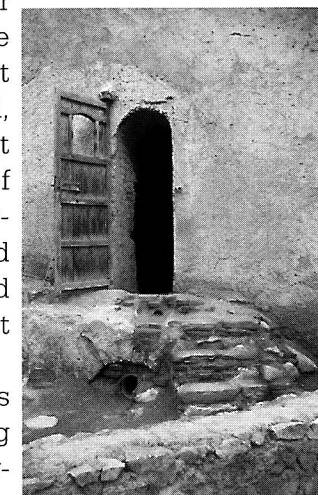

We are face to face with eternity. Time with us is slipping away. Eternity is coming soon. Are we prepared for the change?

A few years ago I went by ship from Portland, Oregon, to San Francisco. It was a stormy, foggy trip, but we safely reached and entered by the Golden Gate into the San Francisco harbor. Another and following ship, however, hailing from a different port, went down on the rocky coast not far from the desired haven. And the captain was among the missing. I shall never forget the words of the captain's wife, as reported in the newspapers. Instead of the familiar footfall, it was the bearer of the tragic tidings who came to the door of the captain's little cottage. And when she heard, she threw up her hands with the cry, "My God, lost! and so near home! Lost, and so near home!"

Such was the fate of the foolish virgins. But, thank God, the foolish can still become wise.

It is not yet too late. This is God's hour to give at these events I've attended.

Were we mislead those years ago? If not, how does one alert the people of our faith to what is going on? Pastors are willing to baptize these new believers in a state which would have previously been called "buried alive". Is there anything worse we could do to a person? What can we do to change this situation? J.W.

from his habit by God's power will usually revert back to his former habit if he loses his connection with God. The removal of the knowledge of evil is absolutely essential before anyone can stand without a mediator during the time of trouble. It must be done by our divine Intercessor before probation closes, but not without our desire and cooperation, for God does nothing for us without our cooperation. ...To be continued transforming grace. Casting aside all figures, God is more willing to give His Holy Spirit to those who ask than to bestow any other gift, for in His train all other blessings flow. And without Him the soul is barren and forlorn. Christ withdrew His localized, physical, bodily presence from the earth, so that He might be universally present in each yielded life through the Holy Spirit. Let us buy of Him the oil in this day of opportunity, and permit Him to dwell in the life as the constant source of supply. Then we shall never know the anguish of despair by being left in darkness while others go in to the feast, and the door is shut.

THE COMING OF THE COMFORTER

by Leroy E. Froom

A classic study on the Holy Spirit. LeRoy Froom answers some of the most vital questions concerning the Holy Spirit - What is the difference between a prick of conscience and the promptings of the Holy Spirit? What are the conditions of being filled with the Spirit? Is regeneration the same as being filled with the Spirit? This book holds out a wonderful hope: that the gift of the Spirit is not reserved for a privileged few. It has been put within the reach of all.
