Thank you so much for Walter Veith's life DVD. I have been watching again some of the DVDs and they are wonderful, eg. the Islamic Connection, etc. These are such eye openers.

L.R.

I wanted to write a quick note to let you know just how "amazing" we think your ministry is. My husband has been able to share the material from the Total Onslaught series with several of his co-workers. One man in particular just can't seem to get enough! It has been such a blessing for my husband to be able to share, and to see his friend's excitement grow.

B.H.

I have gone through the Truth Matters series and now I am going through the Total Onslaught series. There are many times I sit simply dumbfounded as I watch the truth being told in these series. I have received a tremendous blessing and am telling people about your website and DVD series. They truly are a blessing to me and my family. I would love to do what I can here to get this information to as many people as I can.

J.T.

I would like to thank you for your video series Total Onslaught. It touched my heart and the Holy Spirit was working on my heart to help me understand any unknown truth. I purchased your DVD set and after viewing them, had the opportunity to show your material to other people. The word and truth is spreading fast. The Holy Spirit through the Lord Jesus Christ was with you throughout your Onslaught series. I pray that your ministry will continue to spread the truth about the Lord Jesus Christ for the whole world.

On every hand are vigilant foes, led on by the prince of the powers of darkness, who never slumbers, and never deserts his post. 5T 394

"We have only a little while to urge the warfare; then Christ will come, and this scene of rebellion will close. Then our last efforts will have been made to work with Christ and advance His kingdom." RH Oct. 25, 1881

The great day of the Lord is near, it is near, and hasteth greatly. Zeph 1:14. Let us be shod with the gospel shoes, ready to march at a moment's notice. Let us be watchful for opportunities to present to others our planet's destiny - and the nearness of the King's return.

From the Front Lines

Are you a good soldier for Jesus? Will you be one for Him in 2005?

As we enter the unknown pages of 2005, what lies before us? Has the past year been lived as it ought to have been? Have we done our best for the Master? If no, how shall we redeem the past with future faithfulness?? How shall we improve the opportunities before us?

We are soldiers in the army of Christ. Do we ever forget this? A soldier's life is not one of self-serving or ease. His duty as his focus. He defends where necessary, advances in aggressive warfare to take souls for God, and encourages his fellow soldiers in their duty. A good soldier is aware of the urgency of his mission, and does not delay or fall asleep at his post.

Sin's Eternal Condemnation

by Anonymous

God is most desirous to remove from us the 'knowledge of evil', the filthy garment that mars our best service and even our prayers to Him. However, before He does that, it is imperative that we are desirous to have it removed and never wish to have it back again. Our past experience in sin is like some pornographic pictures that have been hung in memory's halls. When sin is pardoned, it is covered by Christ's righteousness so that we appear as though we had never sinned. The Psalmist wrote, "Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered". Psalms 32:1 Yet though they are covered, they are not blotted out. They are still there. While the pictures of sins committed remain in memory's halls, there is always a danger that we will, in a moment of weakness, succumb to the temptation to uncover these pictures and re-live the sinful experience with its pleasures. Therefore, before God removes these pictures, He wants to be certain that we are through with them, that we will no longer want to re-live our experience in sin.

The reason that God has allowed sin and the great controversy to continue in this world as long as it has is due to our partial blindness regarding the exceeding sinfulness of sin. Every time we uncover one of the pictures of sin hung in memory's hall, we show that we still cherish it. Before the great controversy is brought to an end and Satan is destroyed, sin will have to manifest itself fully and reveal its evil nature. The question is asked,

"For what was the great controversy permitted to continue throughout the ages? Why was it that Satan's existence was not cut short at the outset of his rebellion? It was that the universe might be convinced of God's justice in His dealing with evil; that sin might receive eternal condemnation." Education p.308 "Evil must be permitted to come to maturity." GC p.499

It is especially important that God's remnant people should see the exceeding sinfulness of sin so that they will hate it as the evil thing that it is. This is absolutely essential to secure them from ever desiring to go back to it again. As God left some of the wicked nations in Canaan to continue their existence "to prove Israel", so He leaves the 'knowledge of evil' in our minds to prove and try us, whether we will wholly follow Him, or whether we still cherish any sin for which we have previously repented.

Ever since Lucifer's defection in heaven, the problem of the ultimate security of the universe has been the over-riding concern in all that God does. The security of the whole universe was placed in jeopardy when Lucifer rebelled against the divine government and its laws. However, with such a major rebellion taking place near the throne of the universe, why did God not destroy the rebels and put down the rebellion at its very beginning? The reason for that lies in the deceptive nature of sin and rebellion. Inspiration tells us, "Satan's position in heaven had been next to the Son of God. He was first among the angels. His power had been debasing, but God could not reveal it in its true light and carry all heaven in harmony with Him in removing him with his evil influences. His power was increasing, but the evil was yet unrecognized. It was a deadly power to the universe, but for the security of the worlds and the government of heaven, it was necessary that it should develop and be revealed in its true light." 1SM 341

This rebellion was allowed to fester for a long time until war broke out in heaven. Lucifer and his followers were cast out, and peace and harmony were once again restored in heaven. However, at this point in time, God did something that to the on looking universe must have appeared to be a very hazardous undertaking. After Lucifer and his followers were expelled from heaven, we read that, "The Father consulted Jesus in regard to at once carrying out their purpose to

To all appearances, it would seem to be a most inopportune time to create another order of intelligent beings who were innocent of all that had just taken place, yet who would be subject to the subtle deceptions by which Lucifer had deceived nearly half of the angels. However, God, who sees the end from the beginning, proceeded to create another planet, and a new order of beings, and to them He gave dominion over all the earth. But why did God create man at this critical time? We are told that we were brought into existence because we were needed. Note the following heart-warming passages from Inspiration.

"We were brought into existence because we were needed. How sad the thought that if we stand on the wrong side, in the ranks of the enemy, we are lost to the design of our creation. We are disappointing our Redeemer; the powers He designed for His service are used to oppose His grace and matchless love." ST April 22, 1903

"God created man a superior being; he alone is formed in the image of God, and is capable of partaking of the divine nature, of cooperating with his Creator and executing His plans." SD 7

This new order of beings was destined to play a vital role in eventually securing the universe against another apostasy. Through them God would prove the falseness of Lucifer's charges against the laws of His government. Lucifer had made some very serious charges which needed to be refuted. "He denounced the divine statutes as a restriction of their liberty and declared that it was his purpose to secure the abolition of law; that, freed from this restraint, the hosts of heaven might enter upon a more exalted, more glorious state of existence." GC 499

Lucifer claimed that in order to attain to a more exalted and more glorious state of existence, it was necessary to abolish God's law, because the divine statutes were restrictive. To prove the fallacy of Lucifer's claim, God would demonstrate through this new order of beings that the way to attain to a more exalted state of existence was through obedience to His law. Thus He made man of the lowliest material - the dust of the ground. But if man would faithfully walk in harmony with the laws of God's government, he would become elevated to an angel's sphere. "If the holy pair should be obedient, the race would after a time be made equal to the angels." RH Feb. 24, 1874

Ever since Lucifer's defection in heaven, the problem of ultimate security of the universe has been the over-riding concern in all that God does. And in order to secure the universe against another defection, God has enlisted the help of man. The defection of Lucifer and the manifestation of sin and its terrible results is to be a lesson book for all time so that when it is all over, every intelligent being will be fully convinced of the sinfulness of sin and the goodness and justice of God. Tragically, the new order of beings that God created to refute Lucifer's charges against God's law, sided with Lucifer at the forbidden tree. They accepted his assertion that if they would ignore what God had said and eat of the forbidden tree, they would be elevated to become as gods, and have greater knowledge. This rejection of God's authority gave Lucifer a further back-up to his claim that the law of God cannot be obeyed.

God's purpose to use man to vindicate His law received a serious setback. It has had to take a painful detour, but it will still be ultimately realized, and even more gloriously. God will finally accomplish through fallen, sinful humanity what He intended to accomplish through unfallen humanity.

The knowledge of evil has been allowed by God to remain with the pardoned soul for the same reason that Lucifer's existence has been allowed to continue. The daily battle against evil is teaching some valuable lessons regarding the malignity of sin and its enslaving nature. The struggle against outward evil and inward sin is the experience of all, even the best of saints. Inspiration is replete with references on this point. Paul states, "I find then a law, that, when I would do good, evil is present with me. For I delight in the law of God after the inward man: But I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members." Romans 7:21-23

"Paul's sanctification was the result of a constant conflict with self. He said: 'I die daily.' 1 Corinthians 15:31. His will and his desires every day conflicted with duty and the will of God. Instead of following inclination, he did God's will, however crucifying to his own nature." 8T 373

"He who has determined to enter the spiritual kingdom will find that all the powers and passions of unregenerate nature, backed by the forces of the kingdom of darkness, are arrayed against him. Each day he must renew his consecration, each day do battle with evil. Old habits, hereditary tendencies to wrong, will strive for the mastery, and against these he is to be ever on guard, striving in Christ's strength for victory." AA 476-477

In view of these statements, we should not be discouraged, because we have the assurance that "A genuine conversion changes hereditary and cultivated tendencies to wrong." 6BC 1101. The grace of Christ will subdue our evil tendencies and give us the strength to resist. But we must not be surprised to find that they are still lurking in the shadows, waiting for a moment of weakness to spring back at us again. While we are in this present state, we must not expect to be free from temptation and the pull of past sins. "The Christian will feel the promptings of sin, but he will maintain a constant warfare against it. Here is where Christ's help is needed. Human weakness becomes united to divine strength, and faith exclaims: 'Thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.'" (1 Corinthians 15:57) GC 469-470

We have previously noted the peril of past sins, and the lifelong effect of the 'knowledge of evil' gained through sinning. If the Apostle Paul was not immune to it, the born-again believer must not expect to be exempt from that which was the experience of apostles and prophets. However, it is encouraging to note that "As we partake of the divine nature, hereditary and cultivated tendencies to wrong are cut away from the character, and we are made a living power for good. Ever learning of the divine Teacher, daily partaking of His nature, we cooperate with God in overcoming Satan's temptations." Maranatha 225. This is not an instantaneous work. This is a process that goes on during probationary time. "Let us be growing Christians. We are not to stand still. We are to be in advance today of what we were yesterday; every day learning to be more trustful, more fully relying upon Jesus. Thus we are to grow up. You do not at one bound reach perfection; sanctification is the work of a lifetime" 3SM 193

But as we maintain the victory over our sinful tendencies, they become weakened through constant resistance. Yet we are not entirely free from the effects of the 'knowledge of evil'. We are told, "Let every one who desires to be a partaker of the divine nature appreciate the fact that he must escape the corruption that is in the world through lust. There must be a constant, earnest struggling of the soul against the evil imaginings of the mind. There must be a steadfast resistance of temptation to sin in thought or act." SD 109.

Through their battles against outward evil and inward sin, God's people become very much aware of the fact "that sin is a tremendous evil". They know by experience how "Temptations from without find an answering chord within the heart, and the feet turn imperceptibly toward evil." Maranatha 91

When and how will the knowledge of evil be finally and forever removed? When will God's people be wholly transformed into the likeness of Christ and perfectly reflect Him in character? We are told that "not even by a thought could our Saviour be brought to yield to the power of temptation. Satan finds in human hearts some point where he can gain a foothold; some sinful desire is cherished, by means of which his temptations assert their power. But Christ declared of Himself: 'The prince of this world cometh, and hath nothing in Me.'" John 14:30. Satan could find nothing in the Son of God that would enable him to gain the victory. He had kept His Father's commandments, and there was no sin in Him that Satan could use to his advantage. This is the condition in which those must be found who shall stand

Cutting out a useless vestigial argument

By Richard Wilkinson

PAUL WHITTEN of Edinburgh, Scotland, had his appendix surgically removed and sent a letter to New Scientist magazine. "My surgeon", he wrote, "told me I wouldn't miss [my appendix] because it no longer serves a purpose in humans." Whitten's surgeon was repeating a long-discredited argument for evolution - the belief that the appendix and any other parts of the body are useless 'vestigial' organs, which our evolutionary ancestors needed but which we no longer do.

"Your surgeon was a little out of date", replied Chicagoan Kathleen James in the pro-evolution magazine's questions-and-answers column. "Although it used to be believed that the appendix had no function and was an evolutionary relic, this is no longer thought to be true. Its greatest importance is the immunological function it provides in the developing embryo, but it continues to function even in the adult... The function of the appendix appears to be to expose circulating immune cells to antigens from the bacteria and other organisms living in your gut. That helps your immune system to tell friend from foe and stops it from launching damaging attacks on bacteria that happily co-exist with you. (1) James also mentioned why the appendix can be removed without harming us: 'By the time you are an adult, it seems your immune system has already learned to cope with the foreign substances in the gastrointestinal tract, so your appendix is not longer important. But defects in [the appendix and other] immune sampling areas may be involved in autoimmune diseases and intestine inflammation.'

South Africa, also weighted in on Whitten's question: 'In humans, [the appendix] was thought to have no physiological function', Uys wrote. 'however, it is now known to play a role in fetal immunity and in young adults. During the early years of development, the appendix functions as a 'lymphoid organ', assisting with the maturation of B lymphocytes (a type of white blood cell) and in the production of immunoglobulin A antibodies [both of which help fight invading germs]. In addition, at round the 11th week of fetal development, endocrine (hormone-producing) cells appear in the appendix. These cells produce peptide hormones that control various biological mechanisms.'

Even though some of the beneficial functions of the appendix have been known for decades, the Encyclopaedia Britannica (2) and many high school biology text books still indoctrinate students into the belief that the appendix is a useless vestigial testimony to evolution. (3) The point of such assertions is made clear in an older textbook, 1977's Elements of Zoology: 'Structures without use and of reduced size are termed vestigial organs. From the standpoint of special creation these organs are difficult to explain; from that of evolution they are obviously features that were functional and necessary in their ancestors but are now in the process of disappearing from living organisms.' (4)

Darwin used the same argument, (5) as did the evolutionists at the 1925 Tennessee Scopes trial. (6) Millions of people have abandoned faith in the Bible influenced by such arguments - arguments which are themselves 'vestigial', the vestiges of supposed truths that, when used today, are useful only to mislead.

A Closer Look

Recently, a friend of mine showed me his coin collection and as we examined the coins, our conversation turned to counterfeits. He produced three counterfeit collector coins and as I studied them, I could see how difficult it was to identify the differences. Some were easier than others to identify, as the entire metal of the coin was wrong. But generally, the differences were minute and needed an eye for detail and a microscope to correctly decipher the differences.

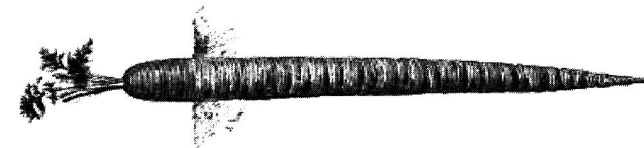

I asked my friend if the saying was true - that the best way to tell a counterfeit is to know the original very well, and he said it was. But what if the original is smudged? Or what if you think you have an original, when you don't? What if the coin is actually a counterfeit? That could alter your perception of things quite a bit.

Amazing Discoveries is all about unmasking deceptions and allowing the pure truth of Jesus' beauty and salvation to shine forth.

Fresh Vegetable & Fruit Juices
by Dr. N.W. Walker

Written in 1936 and still used as an essential reference today.
Book Review by Michael Dye

The premise of Dr. Norman W. Walker in writing Fresh Vegetable & Fruit Juices is that the primary cause of nearly every sickness and disease is the deficiency of vital organic minerals, vitamins and enzymes in our diet.

Then, Dr. Walker asks, "How can we most readily furnish our body with the elements needed?" The answer is the book's title itself, Fresh Vegetable & Fruit Juices, and you may find it incredible what was known by Dr. Walker as early as 1936, when this book was written.

The fact that Dr. Walker lived to be 119 and wrote his last book at age 115 may be considered as evidence that he knew his subject matter pretty well. He was seriously ill in his early 50s when he was convinced to go the natural health route. He went on to practically invent carrot juice and the concept of healing with fresh vegetable juices.

"Except for accidents, all the repair and regeneration of our body must come from within," Dr. Walker writes. "If the blood stream, cells and tissues, organs, glands and all the rest of the body does not contain these elements in their proper proportion, or if any of these elements is deficient, then the body is out of balance and the condition develops which is known as Toxemia, and Toxemia means just plain poison."

"In order to regain and maintain the proper balance of health, most of the food we eat must contain live, vital, organic elements. These elements are found in fresh raw vegetables, fruits, nuts and seeds," he adds.

The earth and its waters are full of minerals, but the only source we have of organic minerals and organic water that our body can assimilate is plant life. "The rays of the sun send billions of atoms into plant life, activating the enzymes and by this force they change inorganic elements into organic or life-containing elements for food," Dr. Walker writes.

The advantage in juicing vegetables is that this process separates the living, vital, organic minerals, vitamins and distilled water from the fiber (pulp). With the fiber removed, our body can assimilate these vital nutrients in liquid form in about 10 to 15 minutes. Fiber has no nutritional content, requires several hours and considerable energy for digestion, and some deterioration of nutrients occurs before food reaches our cells.

Dr. Walker emphasizes, however, that fiber is an important element in our diet, because it acts as an 'intestinal broom' as it travels through our stomach, duodenum, 25 feet of small intestine and colon. This fiber should be obtained by eating a good quantity of raw fruits and vegetables. Once food is cooked, this fiber turns to a mush that leaves a coat of slime on the walls of our intestines, which can putrify and cause Toxemia, a sluggish colon, constipation, colitis, diverticulosis and other problems, Dr. Walker writes. Once food is cooked, its oxygen (a vital element) is lost, enzymes are destroyed "and most of the vital force needed for nourishment is dissipated. One can eat four or five big meals a day, and yet the body may be starved through the lack of the vital elements in the food and the disturbance of the enzyme balance."

Dr. Walker notes, "As a rule it will do no great harm to occasionally eat a little cooked food, but never fried food, provided that a sufficient quantity of raw food is also eaten." And he recommends a vegetarian, non-dairy diet. Clearly a physician ahead of his time, Dr. Walker warned nearly 60 years ago that hope for finding a cause and cure of cancer 'does not lie in the field of fantastic speculation and destructive research by means of uncontrollable radium experiments, but rather in the deficiency of life in the atoms of the food

In addition to ruling out cooked food as a source of anything vital for the body, Dr. Walker notes the limitations of medical drugs: "There is not a drug in the world that will supply the blood stream with anything in a way in which the body can use it for permanent repair or regeneration." This regeneration must come from within the body, and Dr. Walker states vegetable juices are the best source of the nutrients needed for regeneration. Even in 1936, Dr. Walker said results of Juice Therapy "in helping the body recover from nearly every disturbance or ailment, have been almost phenomenal the world over... Today, any person not familiar with the nutritional and recuperative value of fresh vegetable and fruit juices is woefully uninformed."

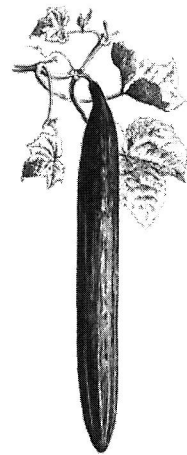

He notes, "Fruit juices are the cleansers of the human system...Vegetable juices are the builders and regenerators of the body. They contain all the amino acids, minerals, salts, enzymes, and vitamins needed by the human body, provided that they are used fresh, raw, and without preservatives, and that they have been properly extracted from the vegetables."

Dr. Walker advises, "Just as long as we include a variety of vegetables in our food combinations, we need not fret or worry about obtaining all the minerals and Vitamins we are trying to furnish our body." Nonetheless, Fresh Vegetable & Fruit Juices offers an exhaustive listing of fruit and vegetable juices, detailing the specific amounts of 21 different elements, vitamins and minerals contained by each fruit and vegetable. The book also includes a list of 87 different juice formulas, and in cooperation with Dr. R.D.

Pope, M.D., Dr. Walker (A Doctor of Science) lists 155 ailments, with one or more of the 87 juice formulas recommended for the treatment of each ailment.

Much information is presented about the specific values of different vegetable and fruit juices. For example, carrot juice is referred to as "the richest source of Vitamin A which the body can quickly assimilate," and it also offers an ample supply of other vitamins and minerals. Because of Vitamin A's benefit to the moist lining of our various membranes, carrot juice 'helps prevent infections of the eyes and throat as well as the tonsils and sinuses and the respiratory organs generally.'

Because of its high calcium content, carrot juice is valuable in the improvement and maintenance of bones and teeth. "One pint of carrot juice, daily, has more constructive body value than 25 pounds of calcium tablets, he notes. Like all minerals, calcium must be in an organic (living) form to be assimilable by our body. He warns that a calcium deficiency can result from drinking pasteurized cow's milk, and that this form of calcium "is just as inorganic as that used in making cement." It can't be used by the body, and ends up forming kidney stones, gallstones, hemorrhoids and tumors, he warns.

As for 'Foods' such as candy, soft drinks and ice cream, Dr. Walker notes, "The human digestive processes were never intended by Nature to be called upon to convert these so called foods into nourishment for the cells and tissues of the body. The result of using them is apparent in the degeneration of the human system...To consider the brief span of two or three score years as constituting old-age is nothing less than a downright insult to Nature and to our Creator. It is a shameful admission that we do not know how to live and have not taken the trouble to learn the first principles of regeneration our body. It is a confession that we eat ourselves into the grave by catering to our appetites."

Since 1936, agriculture uses 100 times more chemicals and poisons in food production, so Fruit and Vegetables should be organically grown to be wholesome.

work of Amazing Discoveries. She dreamed that she and her husband moved into a little house. As they entered the little house, they noticed that the entire floor was covered with layers of mud. It was completely unliveable in the state it was in, so she and her husband began shovelling the mud out in wheelbarrows. Load after load was taken out, and it took a long time before any significant improvement was noticed. But as they began to come to the bottom of the filth, she knelt down and brushed some of the mud away, and noticed that the floor of the little house was exquisitely beautiful. And she marvelled that so much mud would be allowed to cover such a beautiful floor. As they continued cleaning, more and more of it became exposed, until soon, the house began to look nice.

The truth and beauty of Jesus has been covered up with lies and deception. Nothing is as it seems. The devil has done everything in his power to turn the world upside down in its thinking and in its priorities. In the occult world, the north side of a room (God's throne, you will know from the Bible, is in the sides of the north (Is 14:13)) is always in darkness - no windows or candles, and light stands for Lucifer, and darkness stands for God.

In the new social needs-based gospel, Jesus - the Supplier of all our needs and the Comforter of all our sorrows is replaced with a gospel that concentrates more on the needs of the community and church than on the truth that sets you free.

Jesus is also misrepresented in the Catholic community - He is represented as being so angry that Mary has to intervene to obtain forgiveness for the repentant sinner, He is sometimes represented as an emaciated weakling. And among secular circles, he is a God that is powerless to intervene when bad things happen. The world is willing to speak of the 'Christ' in a generic new age sense - but not of the real One that made the heavens and the earth, the One that rescued man from a hopeless state, and promises a better life in the hereafter.

Under those kinds of circumstances it is hard to determine a counterfeit when the original is so besmudged. Without a good original, how can one hope to remain undeceived by counterfeits? A diamond shines brightest on a black surface. And that is what the message of the three angels is supposed to do. it makes Jesus even more attractive because the deception is revealed in its severity.

At Amazing Discoveries, we are constantly amazed at how many lies there exist and that are fed on a daily basis to unsuspecting people on this planet. Take history for example. We are told that events in history are a series of circumstances. Because of an unfortunate madman - Gavrilo Princip - that assassinated the Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir to the Habsburg throne, and his wife, during a state visit to Sarajevo, capital of Bosnia, World War I killed thousands upon thousands. As a result of a powerhungry leader, Adolf Hitler plunged the world into a four-year long international struggle for world domination. If only there weren't so many madmen in the world, right? Then the USA emerged after the Dark Ages as a land of hope and promise, founded on principles of freedom for all in respect to religion and conscience.

Why then would President Woodrow Wilson make this revealing statement: "Some of the biggest men in the US, in the fields of commerce and manufacturing know that there is a power so organized, so subtle, so complete, so pervasive that they had better not speak above their breath when they speak in condemnation of it." (America's Secret Establishment, p. 117) What is this power of which he speaks? Do we really know the truth about history? Has a power been working subtly ever since the beginning of even the lamb-like beast of Revelation?

So what about all this conflict that has taken place on our scarred planet? Is it just a series of unfortunate circumstances? The Trilateral Commission discusses "managed conflict" and implies that controlled conflict can create a predetermined history. Could all this misery in the last 100 years of senseless wars actually have been predetermined and part of a large-scale plan to establish something?

Albert Pike, author of "Morals and Dogma" - the "bible" of freemasonry, wrote a letter in 1871 to his friend Mazzini, in which he outlined a vision he had received and plans for three world wars that were seen as necessary to bring about the One World Order. For a short time, this letter was on display in the British Museum Library in London and it was copied by William Guy Carr, former Intelligence Officer in the Royal Canadian Navy.

The First World War was to overthrow the power of the Czars in Russia (protector of Orthodoxy) and bring about an atheistic communist state.

The Second World War was to originate between Great Britain and Germany. To strengthen communism as antithesis to Judeo-Christian culture and bring about a Zionist State in Israel.

The Third World War was to be a Middle Eastern War involving Judaism and Islam and spreading internationally. (Doc Marquis, "Secrets of the Illuminati" www.ssp-x-schism.com; www.cuttingedge.org)

Has any of this happened? Certainly. What was the purpose of all this planned conflict?

According to Hegelian thinking, a philosophy subscribed to by Marx, Hitler, as well as many others, an existing force (the thesis) generates a counterforce (the antithesis) resulting in the formation of a synthesis. "The synthesis sought by many is called the New World Order. Without controlled conflict this New World Order will not come about. Random individual actions of persons in society would not lead to this synthesis. It's artificial, therefore it has to be created. And this is being done with the calculated, managed use of conflict." In the case of the Nazis, the Soviet Union, North Korea, North Vietnam, etc. the same or similar banker backed all of them. "The 'conflict' built profits while pushing the world ever closer to One World Government." (America's Secret Establishment p. 115)

So, has the current world situation been deliberately created by a power that more or less manipulates "right" and "left" elements? The evidence seems to indicate that this could be true.

Is Satan's government not the one in control on this planet? What is Satan's goal? Is it not to set up a counter government against God, and obtain the power and glory that ascribes only to Him? Was this not his goal from the beginning? "I will exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north: ... I will be like the Most High." Isaiah 14:13,14

This world is not our home. When we are in that celestial land, we will be able to understand all that transpired on our earth while we were unawares. All will be laid bare, secret alliances, whispered plans, diabolical motives, all these will be open to our view, and we shall understand as never before, the darkness of the world from which we come, and the glorious delight in which we have been privileged to come to dwell. We shall see clearly how vain were our trusts and earthly hopes. And will understand how precious the gift is that God gives us - the surety of His promises, the safety and certainty of His undying love, and the divine interventions that protected us while under Satan's regime. It will mean so much more after we have all our questions answered.

I desire to be there, don't you? I long to have all things be made plain. But for now, our faith must be sufficient, and we must learn to trust in the darkness - even when many questions remained unanswered.

In the meantime, let us be students of history and prophecy, and learn to look beyond the obvious and be willing to stand up for the government of our King with wisdom, understanding and courage.

At Amazing Discoveries, we wish you a new year that provides ample opportunity to strengthen your faith, and draw closer to our Friend and Saviour, Jesus. Let us walk circumspectly, with eyes wide open, redeeming the time, for the days are evil. (Eph 5:15,16) in the time of trouble." GC 623. To be wholly like Christ is to live in a fallen nature, yet as one who has never sinned, who has never had the knowledge of evil. This is the condition that the final remnant must be in if they are to stand in the time of trouble such as never was. In the next part of this article, we will see the special experience through which God will take His people to secure them forever from another apostasy. This is the great, final climax to the work of redemption.

Hundreds are waiting for the warning to escape for their lives. GW 29

To save souls should be the life work of everyone who professes Christ. 4T 53

Everything in the universe calls upon us who know the truth to consecrate ourselves unreservedly to proclaiming the truth as it has been made known to us in the third angel's message.

But how many times do we hear the comment that the messages of the second and third angels are too "harsh", and that we should give a less provocative message? Is that true? Are we aware that this world is upside down? Right is wrong. Death is made to look alright. The principles of Satan's government are insidious. Nothing is as it seems. Not even hindsight is 20/20. Deception is all around us. From the TV, to the history books, to science, to religious ideologies, to the food we purchase and serve our families, and more, this world is ending, and yet we're told everything is fine.

"A power from beneath is working to bring about the last great scenes in the drama - Satan coming as Christ, and working with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in those who are binding themselves together in secret societies. Those who are yielding to the passion for confederation are working out the plan of the enemy. The cause will be followed by the effect." 8T 27,28

Never did this message apply with greater force than it applies today. Men have become bold in transgressions. The earth has almost reached the place where God will permit the destroyer to work his will upon it.

We are a people without excuse. God is waiting no longer on His people to finish the work. Don't be surprised if you hear a Protestant pastor preaching Biblically-correct sermons on the Sabbath, the state of the dead and hell, the sanctuary, the second coming, and the great controversy. At this very moment many Protestants are becoming more like conservative Adventists while Adventists are busily becoming more liberal and worldly. Actually, we are about ready to switch sides, with the in out and the out in.

While we stand around patting our back and taking care of our personal needs and our future, others are finishing the work and are already taking our crown. Let us stand up individually and be counted, willing to turn the world upside down (or shall I say right side up) through faith and sacrifice. Or we can roll over and act like everything is OK. If we choose the second option, the world - who never knew we existed - will never notice we are gone.

Let the members of the church have increased faith, gaining ZEAL from their unseen, heavenly allies, from a knowledge of their exhaustless resources, from the greatness of the enterprise in which they are engaged, and from the power of their Leader. 7T 14

Put on the whole armor of heaven, and go forth to the warfare, willing to do and dare for God, knowing that His omnipotence will supply your need. 7T 14

Let us arouse! The battle is waging. Truth and error are nearing their final conflict. Let us march under the blood-stained banner of Prince Emmanuel, and fight the good fight of faith, and win eternal honors; for the truth will triumph, and we may be more than conquerors through Him who has loved us. The precious hours of probation are closing. Let us make sure work for eternal life, that we may glorify our heavenly Father, and be the means of saving souls for whom Christ died. RH Mar 13, 1888

We have no time to lose. The end is near. We are standing upon the very verge of the eternal world. As never before, resistance must be made against sin - against the powers of darkness.

"When the religion of Christ is most held in contempt, when his law is most despised, then should our zeal be the warmest and our courage and firmness the most unflinching. To stand in defence of truth and righteousness when the majority forsake us, to fight the battles of the Lord when champions are few - this will be our test. At this time, we must gather warmth from the coldness of others, courage from their cowardice, and loyalty from their treason." 5T 136

There is danger in delay. That soul whom you might have found, that soul to whom you might have opened the Scriptures, passes beyond your reach. 6T 443

We are standing upon the very verge of the eternal world, holding the truths we do, having so great light, so important a work, we must double our diligence. Every one is to do to the very utmost of his ability. 5T 460,461

"If every soldier of Christ had done his duty, if every watchman on the walls of Zion had given the trumpet a certain sound, the world might ere this have heard the message of warning. But the work is years behind. While men have slept, Satan has stolen a march upon us. 9T 29.

We have no time to lose. The end is near. The passage from place to place to spread the truth will soon be hedged with dangers on the right hand and on the left. Everything will be placed to obstruct the way of the Lord's messengers, so that they will not be able to do that which it is possible for them to do now. We must look our work fairly in the face and advance as fast as possible in aggressive warfare... the powers of darkness are working with intense energy from beneath, and with stealthy tread Satan is advancing to take those who are now asleep as a wolf taking his prey. 6T 22.

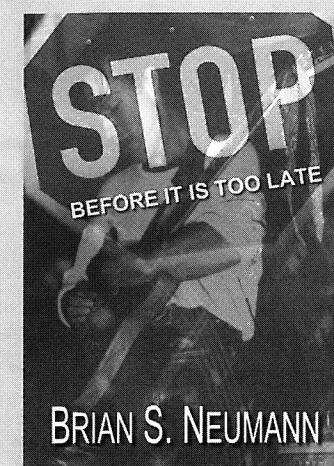

I encourage you to make 2005 a year in which you do more for the Master. In the next issue - watch for ideas to use to interest your friends in finding out more about where this world is headed. Over the course of the next few issues, we are going to be transitioning to a different kind of newsletter - that will be suitable to share with your friends and family, as well as strengthen you in your witness at this hour of earth's history. We thank you for your faithful support throughout the years, and pray that you will continue to stay with us as we move forward, to advance the Lord's work in a more tangible way.

STOP Before It Is Too Late

There comes a time when you are hurtling full-speed down the road and then, suddenly, at the crossroads, a big red sign literally screams at you: STOP! The choice is yours, apply the brakes with extreme haste, perhaps you will stop in time. On the other hand, you can just keep right on going, pretending you did not see. The music and worship debacle has now reached that critical intersection. Do we rock and keep rolling on, or do we now, while milli-seconds fly, step on the brakes, and avoid a catastrophic collision? Brian S. Neumann's NEWEST BOOK discusses the issues surrounding music and worship - outlining music's effect on the human psyche, revealing evidence from the music industry, and providing a compelling thorough Biblical study on how our music choices effect our view of God, and how to really worship God according to God's principles.

UKRAINE

JOINING FORCES

IN UKRAINE EVANGELISM

In May 2005

Amazing Discoveries is planning a large evangelistic meeting in Kiev, the capital city of Ukraine in early 2005. It will be an exciting series as Walter Veith presents lectures on science and creation in a country where for over 70 years evolution was the only alternative offered to the populace. Following the evolution/creation, Walter Veith will hold lectures on Biblical prophecy in light of our present day with his unique presentations on the great controversy between Christ and Satan. These lectures will be held in conjunction with Victor Gill, who will conduct a full evangelistic seminar as follow-up in preparation for baptism.

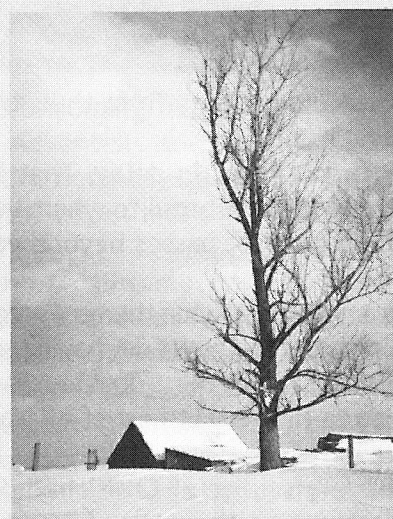

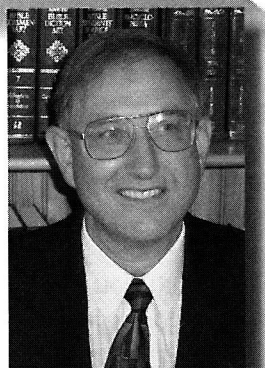

This lecture will be sponsored solely by AD and we would like to invite you to help in this extraordinary series.

Your generous donations are needed at this time.

Please prayerfully consider giving to help finance the expenditures of this powerful seminar coming to the Ukraine this spring!
